

Sweets for my sweet... gemstones for Christmas !

In fruity, juicy, candy colours:

Gold looking like vanilla or chocolate to delight the eye and the tastebuds:

Or jewelry from another time, evoking corns of plenty, wedding cakes or something from Alice's Mad Tea Party....

Jewelry and works by Esther Assouline, Ambroise Degenève, Nathalie Dmitrovic, Karen Gay, Jean Grisoni, Patricia Lemaire, Niessing, Mark Nuell, Martin Spreng...

The Elsa Vanier Gallery sets out to promote the profoundly cultural dimension of the jewelry designed by artists, who have chosen rare, precious or fascinating materials to express their art.
