

PARIS DESIGN WEEK

Play Fair...

3rd to 10th September 2016

Jewelry can be playful fun, a sensual invitation to delight the eye, a tactile toy interacting with the wearer or a pawn in a delectable game of love... Flirtatious or just pure style, the choice is yours...

Crystallite ring :

A hand-folded sphere turns into a spectacular jewelry ring for special moments. A glittering diamond pavé surface brings out the crystalline appeal of this ring particularly well. Worn on the hand, Crystallite reveals new dimensions: eccentric, playful, carefree – and always steadfast.

Topia and Crystallite boutons: a new, casual accessory for HIM

A small flower, a crystalline form: A jewelry for men who wish to underline their personal style in a sophisticated, casual manner.

« Boutons », 18ct gold or platinum

Performance in color: Life is a performance

The durable inner heart of gray gold forms the core of Performance Color and defines its form. A tender skin of gold in Warm Yellow, Classic Red, Spring Green, or Sand Gray gently covers it, while leaving freedom for change. Over time, the soft outside will pick up traces of wear, giving the ring its individual form: it forges itself over and over again, every day.

During Paris Design Week, the gallery will showcase also graphic pieces by:

Florence Croisier, John Moore, Karola Torkos and Yael Sonia

NIESSING

Over more than 135 years, the Niessing manufactory studio has been acquiring a wealth of experience in handling precious metals. This tradition is expressed in the interplay between skillful craft and contemporary technology. The process of designing with precious metals is an art that makes design tangible.

The Elsa Vanier Gallery sets out to promote the profoundly cultural dimension of the jewelry designed by artists, who have chosen rare, precious or fascinating materials to express their art.
